JOHNNANNA GANZ,
Sexual Violence Justice Institute
Minnesota Coalition Against
Sexual Assault

Johnanna Ganz (Ph.D.) holds a deep passion for and long history with rural communities. Her experience with victim advocacy and the anti-violence field directly shaped her educational path. In 2015, Johnanna earned her doctorate from Bowling Green State University with expertise in organizational and occupational identity in sexual and domestic violence victim advocacy. After completing her education, Johnanna began work as the Systems Change Program Manager; while there, Johnanna served as the Hennepin County SMARTeam coordinator and led the team through the protocol development process. Using her education and experience, Dr. Ganz creates uniquely rural tools and emphasizes rural strengths while addressing realities and gaps.
